

In 1958 Hoopman marketed a picking machine for turnips followed in 1964 by the production of machines for cutting bulbs, garlic and onion plants. The name of the machine for cutting onion plants, Holeras, became the brand name for the machines of Hoopman. Jan Willem Hoopman studied ways to improve seeds. Two years ago we published an article about this in Somsen Horizon.

In addition to agricultural machinery, machines for contractors and for the livestock sector Hoopman also produces sweepers that are used by the local governments for sweeping and clearing snow. Almost all Dutch airports use Hoopman sweepers for the runways. Hoopman also provides machinery for ecological roadside management and beet processing machines for biogas plants. Soon they will start building a new production hall of 0.6 square acres.

On Thursday, September 8, the company Hoopman received from the hands of Mayor Berghoef the predicate Tradesman by Special Appointment to H.M.

At the reception Theo Somsen offered congratulations and flowers on behalf of the Somsen Foundation.

Somsenhouse empty

by Johan Somsen [1089]

The Somsenhouse is situated on the site where in the beginning of the 17th century the Somsstedecken was. That is the place where the oldest known Somsen ancestor of all of us lived: Roelof. During our reunion in 2007 we dedicated a commemorative plaque at the driveway to remember this fact.

The Lammers-Prinzen family lived at the Somsenhouse for a very long time but due to their far advanced age Hendrik and Truida decided to move into an apartment in the nursing home in Dinxperlo.

We wish the Lammers-Prinzen family all the best in their new environment.

I was approached by a son of the family if there were potential buyers in the Somsen family for this very special site for a Somsen.

The original farm was burned down and in 1950 a new house was built. The outbuildings are still original. There are about 4 acres of land and the purchase price lies below € 500,000. Interested parties can contact us.

Newsletter 6

October 2011

Bell tower New Ulm

Message of our chairman

Johan Somsen [1089]

We are pleased to offer you the Somsen Newsletter 6 of October 2011. A major event lies in store for us: the fourth Worldwide Somsen Reunion of 2012 in New Ulm, MN. in the USA. After intensive contacts with Stephen Somsen [2459] from the US we are very happy to publish his invitation in this newsletter and of course this news can also be found on our site: www.somsen.org

It will not be easy for many Dutch Somsens to be present but it is already known that two groups in The Netherlands are planning to travel to the United States combining their trip with a visit to the Somsen reunion there. Maybe an idea for people who have a trip to America on their wish list. Often you can find bargain flights if you book long in advance.

Other special news is that the Somsenhouse, the place of our origin, is for sale. It is possible that there are Somsens who are interested or maybe there is a wealthy Somsen who wants to buy this historic site and even offer it to the Family Foundation.

I would also like to draw your attention to our new stamps that are available at our treasurer. About all these matters and much more you can read in this newsletter and I wish you much reading pleasure with it.

Johan Somsen [1089] chairman

Somsen. (The last 3 were all born in or near New Ulm)

Family barbecue on Saturday 27 August in IJzerlo

by Johan Somsen [1089]

Although initially weather conditions were not very promising (it rained while "baptizing" the tree) and in spite of a few cancellations at the last moment it turned out to be a very successful happening. There were even 43 persons who took part in the barbecue and in total there were even 50 guests. Not everyone could join the barbecue, though. There was enough food and drink. Wim Somsen and Rudolf Brunsveld had taken care of that.

It was very encouraging that, in addition to a number of "older" newcomers, so many young Somsen-families were there. There was a large group of people around 40 with their children at the campsite and they all enjoyed it very much in spite of a few showers. The Ede branch was responsible for a proportional share of this attendance and it was Oscar who had started this. Chapeau!

With an umbrella under the tree

When in the board last year we stated that we wanted to continue with these meetings because we all felt that so many people enjoyed the barbecue we could not have guessed that there would be such a great deal of participants this year. We had never experienced this before. Last year we had decided to go on with these camping-weekends because of the pleasure it brought to all the people present. For that reason we should not stop.

Another consideration to also continue our Family Foundation was that it would be very difficult for future generations to make a new start again once when we would completely stop now.

Next to the reunion in New Ulm in 2012, August 4 and 5, the annual barbecue and camping weekend in IJzerlo also be held at the end of August 2012.

Hoopman Machines Inc. in IJzerlo 1911-2011

by Harry Somsen [146]

On September 3, 2011 Hoopman Machines at the Dinxperlosestraatweg 145 in IJzerlo celebrated its centennial with a reception. It was Jan Hoopman [351] who started as a blacksmith and who also had a hardware store and a bicycle repair store. He married Anna Somsen [350]. Their son, Bram Hoopman [381], who had a talent for innovations in the field of agriculture, married Thea Kaemingh [382]. Thea, 90 now, was present at the Somsen barbecue in IJzerlo. Jan Willem Hoopman [606], the third generation, is the current owner and he invited the Somsens because of the Somsen connection. Hoopman Machines is still a family business and a large part of the 45 workers come from the neighborhood. Turnover of staff hardly exists because of the modest and flat organization in which the employees all know each other by their first names. "You will not see three-piece suits", says Hoopman manager Henk Korten. We have grown by just staying informal, so we will continue doing so.
